

I did the rainbow photo challenge on my walk today. Indigo and violet are definitely the hardest to spot! This is a great activity to get children to look up and around them while out and about! And everything looks so much better in the sunshine!

Can you find a rainbow on one of your walks? Upload it to your google classroom.